

In 2017, due to the continuing poor economic conditions, Lucky's parents experience marital discord and divorce.

In 2018, the mother finds out that Lucky is no longer eligible for SSI, cutting off a major source of income for this single-parent household.

Lucky begins to realize that his life will only become much more tougher, with more challenges. Despite this, he continues to have an optimistic outlook.

